Pope visits Iowa

The single largest gathering in the history of Iowa came to Urbandale. It started July 19, 1979. Farmer Joe Hays wrote to Pope John Paul II inviting him to Iowa during his planned visit to the U.S. On August 29, Bishop Dingman confirmed the visit for October 4.

Preparations were frantic. Urbandale's Living History Farms was chosen for the outdoor site of the historic Mass. All decorations were created by local artists emphasizing the natural beauty of the land.

Schools were dismissed for the day. Traffic stopped in restricted areas. Three types of car stickers allowed residents and employees to pass through.

Interstates 80 & 35 were blocked off and used for bus parking. Shuttles ran from parking lots to the Farms. Portable toilets were set up along well-marked pilgrimage routes. People were encouraged to walk the last three miles. Vendors made plans to sell Pope buttons, pennants, pictures, magazines, and T-shirts. Jokes circulated about 'pope' corn and 'pope' cicles.

Wednesday National Guardsmen arrived. Before sunrise Thursday, pilgrims trooped west against a cold north wind; and the waiting began.

At 1:47 p.m. Pope John Paul II landed.

This was the first time a Pope had visited Iowa and only the second time for a visit to the U.S. For the vigorous 59-year-old, it was the fourth day of his U.S. pilgrimage.

After a greeting at the airport, via helicopter he spent part of an hour at the small rural parish of St. Patrick's in Cummings. Then on to Urbandale.

With the sound of Shepherd I overhead, the crowd, some who had waited 10 hours, livened and united. Cheering started, flags and banners waved. "Welcome!" shouted the crowd which had donned plastic garbage bags and blankets for protection against the mid-50 temperatures and a short shower.

Before this remarkably reverent throng of 300,000 dropped across the rolling green pasture and a television audience, the Pope celebrated Mass. He spoke of Iowa's great gift of soil, the need to preserve the land and to share the Midwest's bountiful harvests with the world.

World events serious game

Nostalgia games marked the closing of the '70's. We played guessing games about what the new decade of the '80's would hold. These games were fun and the stakes weren't very high, but on the national and international level games held very high stakes.

On November 4, 1979, Iranian militant students seized the American Embassy in Teheran and took hostage 52 Americans. The new revolutionary Iranian government provoked at American medical treatment offered the deposed Shah of Iran seemed to be shouting, "Red Rover, Red Rover — send the Shah right over!"* The reply from the U.S. was an even louder, "Go fish!"* Religious leader Ayatollah Khomeini became a familiar face on the evening news as negotiations for the hostages' release drug on.

When U.S.S.R. invaded Afghanistan, the U.S. retaliated by cutting imports to Russia and pulling the American team out of the summer Moscow Olympics.

As the games became more serious, President Carter requested draft registration for 19 and 20-year olds. Congress passed the request in an effort to revitalize our voluntary armed forces. Debate about including women in the registration emphasized the ERA crusade for equality. Women were excluded from the present sign-up. With the U.S. and Russia at odds, work on the Salt II treaty slowed.

The Follow-the-leader Hostage Game continued popularity. A group in Columbia, M-19, captured the Embassy in Bogota holding several international ambassadors hostage. In England British SWAT forces broke up a group holding hostages in the Iranian Embassy.

The Winter Olympic games held in Lake Placid, New York was a happy event. The U.S. hockey team won the gold from the Russians and became national heroes. Eric Heiden won five gold medals in speed skating setting a new record in gold.

High Stakes

In April nine Americans died in a secret attempt to rescue the American hostages in Teheran. Later Washington state was in the news spotlight as Mr. Sr. Hellen became the first active volcano on the U.S. mainland since the 1850's.

Inflation and recession were two words often heard. Gasoline prices soared to all-time highs and Des Moines saw its first $1 per gallon gasoline prices. The dollar continued to shrink and jobs became tighter.

Excitement was added as U.S. political leaders played a game similar to the "Gong Show" to choose the next president. Republican candidates included Congressman John Anderson of Illinois; Senator Howard Baker of Tennessee; former Congressman George Bush of Texas; former Governor John Connally of Texas; Congressman Phil Crane of Illinois; and Senator Robert Dole of Kansas. On the Democratic side Senator Ted Kennedy of Massachusetts and Governor Jerry Brown of California vied with the incumbent President Jimmy Carter for their party's nomination. Des Moines was a focal point nationally because of the appearances of the many presidential candidates, in their attempt to gain support from the Iowa caucuses — the first in the nation.

From "start" to "finish"

The games we played were important to us. They started the first day of school as the seniors began counting days left before graduation. We also noticed that once again we had to play musical chairs with classrooms as departments had been moved around. It was that time again to put off Friday's homework until Sunday night at 10:00 p.m. It was time to listen to those hard-to-hear but amusing 9:00 a.m. announcements. And it was time again for school food and standing in line.

Homecoming was rescheduled due to the Pope's visit. Changes were made with homecoming tradition as hall decorations were substituted for the float decorations.

Only two months after school started it was time again to either start rejoicing or to pull out the old report card excuses: "But, mom, that's a tough course!" or "But, mom, look at this A in gym!"

Starting with presidential hopeful Governor Jerry Brown in late fall, UHS got a taste of politics. Campaigning visitors included Senator Howard Baker's daughter Sissy, Senator Ted Kennedy's nephew Joe, and President Jimmy Carter's son Chip.

Around the middle of the year, the library and Commons filled with psychology students looking for guinea pigs to trap into one of their experiments. Mass Media students hit the halls filming us with their cameras.

The year of '79-80 was a success. The vocal music department grew. Drama students and music students received high marks in competitions. In sports there was lots of state competition: summer softball, football, hockey, girls basketball, boys basketball, four individual wrestlers, two members of the boys track team, one event in girls track, and boys and girls swimming events.

We, the Echo staff of '79-80 feel that this was a very special and unique year. We invite you to browse through and relive this special time.

'I Like Dreaming'

New traditions, new decade

Postponed because of the Pope's visit on October 2, homecoming week kicked-off Monday, October 15, with various banners in the hallways and decorated lockers stuffed to the top with munchies.

Tuesday night, the juniors and seniors tied in their powderpuff game, 7-7, while the sophomores whipped passed the freshman in their game, 7-0. Later that night, a bonfire was held behind the high school. At this special event, the students did a snake dance across Aurora Ave.

Wednesday was hat day. Students and faculty wore many zany hats.

Thursday, the homecoming royalty were crowned during the morning assembly. That night, the senior girls decorated the football players' houses in the traditional manner and also decorated the street in front of the high school.

Friday's afternoon pep assembly mustered up spirit for the night's game. Urbandale rolled over Saydel, 33-7.

The week's fun was wrapped up Saturday at the homecoming dance while the students danced to the music of Spencer.

This year's homecoming brought new traditions. No floats were allowed this year because of last year's egg fights between the float builders. The senior's underground float didn't quite make it into the parade because it fell apart on the way to the parade. Despite the changes in the homecoming festivities, it still was one of the craziest weeks of the year,

Royalty Crowned; Ronda, Paul reign

On October 18, 1979, students and faculty gathered in the gym to hear Robert Hansen, junior class president, announce the traditional homecoming king and queen.

The jazz band assisted Hansen by playing up the exciting moment. Juniors Missy Carver and Brian Fink escorted the royalty to their ceremonial chairs in the middle of the floor.

Elected by the student body to reign as the royal court were Jim Goodman, Christy Thomas, Dennis Baldwin, Shelly DuBois, Tim Steinmeyer, Kellie McGowan, Craig Zimmerman, and Pam Rypkema.

Paul Mindermann and Ronda Hutchinson were crowned Homecoming King and Queen to rule over the 1979-80 homecoming activities.

J-Hawks beat jinx; runners-up at State

After a state championship in 1975, the J-Hawks were knocked out of first round play-off action in '77 and '78. Urbandale finally broke the jinx by beating Sr. Alberts. Sr. Alberts scored in the first quarter but that was the last time they would find the way to the goal line. The Jays scored in the second quarter with a touchdown and field goal. In the third quarter Urbandale scored two more times.

After beating Sr. Alberts, Urbandale marched into Pella for their second round game. Pella also scored first. Plagued with fumbles, Urbandale could not score in the first half. The J-Hawks had the ball 8 times in the first half, but lost the ball to fumbles 7 times and once to an intercepted pass. In the third quarter changes began. They started to hold onto the ball and finally score in the final minutes in the third quarter. Urbandale took control of the game in the fourth quarter and scored two more times. Once again Urbandale was on its way to the state finals in football.

For the second time Urbandale met Emmersburg at the State Finals. The two teams had clashed in '75-76 when Urbandale took her 3-A title, 38-11. The E-Hawks scored first with a field goal; and Urbandale was quick to come back with a field goal of its own. Late in the second quarter the E-Hawks threw a 73-yard touchdown pass putting Urbandale in the hole 3-10 at the end of the half. In the third quarter the game was on-off pushing and shoving. It wasn't until late in the last quarter that one of the teams had a chance to score. Urbandale was knocking at the door to a victory and it opened as the J-Hawks marched across the goal line. The score was 9-10. Urbandale went for a two point conversion to win. As the door slammed, the J-Hawks fell short of the goal line. The Jays accepted second place in the 3-A state football championship.

Fun, work fill spare time at UHS

- 1 Movies are a big source of entertainment for daretime. Craig Zimmerman and date Kelli McGowan have four choices of scare movies at Forum IV in the Mall.
- 2 Dancing in the Commons is where Shelley DuBois along with many others finds a fun time after Friday night ball games.
- 3 Seniors Kim Carlisle and Michelle Dykema discover that the annual powderpuff game isn't just for promoting class spirit. It's also a time to have fun with your friend.
- 4 Cars are an important part of entertainment whether they be a new 280Z or an old clunker that gets you from here to there.
- 5 Spare time isn't all spent having fun. With inflation raising the cost of living, many students find a need for a part time job. Denise Drake earns spending money at a popular pizza and ice cream restaurant Happy Joe's.
- 6 Music is a big part of the average day. The WHO concert was an outstanding event of the year.

Laughter marks fall production

On November 15, 16, 19 the UHS Commons was filled with the sounds of laughter as the audience watched the fall production of Woody Allen's "Don't Drink the Water." State football playoffs on Saturday required the play be rescheduled for a final performance Monday night.

Along with the comedy came suspense and a little romance. Director Ronda Harwood found herself with a big challenge to shape sixteen students into sixteen extraordinary actors. "We had quite a struggle in the beginning, but things seemed to fall into place," Harwood said.

As the play unravelled, the Hollanders found themselves trapped in an American Embassy in a Communist country. While Marion (Denise Drake) was busy waxing the carpet and Susan (Lisa Swaney) was falling in love with Axel McGee (Tony Vierling), Walter (Scott Nelson) was busy contemplating escape and death, if not by guns then by the chef's (Tony Adelman) cooking.

Despite the difficulties they faced, the Hollander's managed to entertain the audience for the full two hours.

3 "Where's my rabbit" hollers angry Fr. Drobney (Brad Smith) as Marion (Denise Drake) and Walter (Scott Nelson) anxiously awaits for the trick to continue.

4 Lighting is an important part of drama, as Chris Cain demonstrates.

5 Walter (Scott Nelson) Hollander tells his son of the "slight" difficulty they are facing.

Howard receives honors at All-State

Continuing speech and drama competition for the second year, the UHS drama department traveled about the state to contests. Tracy Howard, Denise Drake, Tony Adelman, Scott Nelson, Tony Vierling, Lisa Swaney, Brett Wortman, Dale Sharrill, Kelly Severin, Sara Rawland, and Kelly Mayo in "The Guns of Carrar" placed high at district. Also, the reader's theater cast of "Little Women," consisting of Jana Fietler, Tracy Thompson, Jenny Spiller, Teri Johnson, Brett Wortman, Martha Strunce, and Sara Rawland qualified for state competition. Mimes entitled "The Playground," by Teri Johnson, and "Sisters" by Jenny Spiller and Kelly Severin were performed.

All entries of the Iowa Individual Competition received I's. State speech competitors included Scott Nelson, humorous and radio acting; Denise Drake, interpretive prose; Tracy Howard, dramatic acting; and Kelly Severin, story telling. Howard, the only UHS student to participate, went on to All-State competition. She received outstanding honors.

Hotsy-totsy flappers shimmy in spring play

"You Gotta Charleston" was presented by UHS theater for its spring production April 23, 24, and 25. The play was set in a university sorority house in the 1920's. The sorority girls were at least as interested in the Charleston, the Shimmy, and Rudolph Valentino as in good grades.

The fun began when dashing Tony Barrington III arrived on campus for a date with Veronica, the sorority vamp. His plans changed when he bet with a fraternity brother on his ability to charm Samantha, the intellectual and aloof sorority president.

Things get more complicated when a Hollywood film company arrived on campus to shoot a super epic. Immediately the students began to vie for the extra parts. Further complications developed when "da mob" arrived on the scene with a contract out on somebody, but the question was who. Problems were solved in a mixture of chases and mistaken identities.

The play was written by Cynthia Mercate Prigge, wife of UHS Theater director, Robert Prigge, who directed the play.

1 Director Robert Prigge observes rehearsal of "You Gotta Charleston" while the author Cynthia Mercate Prigge makes notes. Judy Hayes and Valerie Boles get ready for their scene.

2 Hollywood director (Tony Adelman) and his assistant Harrier (Lynne Westlund) convince Freddy (Dean Jones) to become the new Valentino.

3 LaVerne (Valerie Boles) a clumsy freshman at Wakeepsie College imagines herself as the next leading lady for Valentino.

4 Samantha Campbell (Tracy Howard) tutors Tony Barrington III in history. Tony's not interested in history, but he is in Samantha.

Sophisticated look brings new styles

Fashions at UHS took on a sophisticated look during the '79-80 year. Designer jeans, pleated pants, suit jackets, collarless shirts, valour tops and slit skirts were all considered "chic".

Spike heels were a new trend in shoes for the girls and the guys often wore hiking boots or tennis shoes.

Hairstyles varied for the girls from short and curly to long and straight.

One popular style was curly and layered. The main style for the guys was short and feathered.

Gold chains, charm necklaces and moon boots were several fads that became popular throughout the year. Considering all the new fashions, there were still those who liked to wear blue jeans and a t-shirt.

'This Is It'

For the first time ever, prom took place at Olmsted Center on the Drake University Campus on Saturday, April 26. For many years prom was held in the Riviera Ballroom at the Riverview Amusement Park; but since the park was sold last year, a new site had to be found.

"This Is It", a popular song by Kenny Loggins, was the theme this year for prom. The lyrics of the song were written on banners along the walls of the dance room. The stairway was decorated with rainbow colored streamers, and figures of a couple holding balloons were on one wall with the names of the couples on them to take home.

Couples danced to the music of the rock group Snazz and refreshments were provided by Drake which included punch and snack foods.

255 freshmen join UHS

Anxious, excited, and a little scared; 255 freshmen began Urbandale High School in August of 1979.

Frosh advisement moves to center hall

This year's freshman may have been better prepared for high school because of freshman advisement. The program, which helped freshmen adjust to high school and attempted to get them involved in activities, continued into its second year during 1979-1980. "It also helped in scheduling and long-term planning," noted freshman Counselor Harold Nicola.

The advisement room moved from rooms 712-714, upstairs, to two rooms in the center hall. Posters and stuffed chairs were added to make the room more comfortable.

Advisement met Tuesdays and Fridays opposite the periods freshmen were scheduled for gym. Twenty-four teachers volunteered to advise a group of about 12 freshmen. Advisors had the option of using students who had been involved in the Peer Helper program.

The advisement program was very informal and the structure of the class was left up to the individual teacher and facilitator.

new homecoming traditions for frosh

Getting into homecoming, the freshman class was the first class not to be waist-high in tissue paper for floats. Instead of decorating floats, on Wednesday night, freshmen gathered to array the center hall with paper streamers and aluminum foil. The freshmen placed fourth in the class hall decoration competition.

Coached by Lyle Welch and Harold Nicola, some of the 30 girls roughened up their appearance with war paint. However at the time, they lost to the sophomores, 7-0. After the game, the bonfire made everyone forget the rivalries during the game. Snaking down Aurora with a snake dance was part of the fun. Homecoming gave the freshman one more reason to "come back" in another three years.

Advisement program helps bridge gap

Freshmen advisement helped bridge a gap between students, their parents, and the school. The program gave freshmen an extended orientation and a chance to meet new people.

Cheerleaders were invited in the fall to help the freshmen get ready for pep assemblies. Ninth graders also participated in human relations exercises with Peer Helpers. Human relations and value clarification films were shown through the year.

Various contemporary topics were discussed. Paul Houston, police liaison officer, talked to freshmen advisement about rape.

The subject was discussed because of people's need to understand contemporary problems and to learn how to deal with them.

Record-breaking lines for hot lunch

Editorial reprinted from the JAYHAWKER
October 4, 1979.

A hot lunch a day keeps the doctor away! UHS must believe this line because those record-breaking lines of growling stomachs told the story.

Since when did the infamous hot lunch climb to first place was the pick of the bunch? "When the menu was changed to four choices including a fries-and-burrito 'winner' as well as three others," claimed Mrs. Alice Ruggles, who was in her fourteenth year at UHS.

An Average of 325 students flocked to the "Hot" line each day as compared to 250 for a la carte and 100 for the vending room. Menus were planned by Ruggles who saw running the hot lunch as, "almost like running a restaurant."

What did students like best? Top items included spaghetti, pizza, and of course, the first-to-run-out-of burritos-and-fries dish.

New administrator joins staff

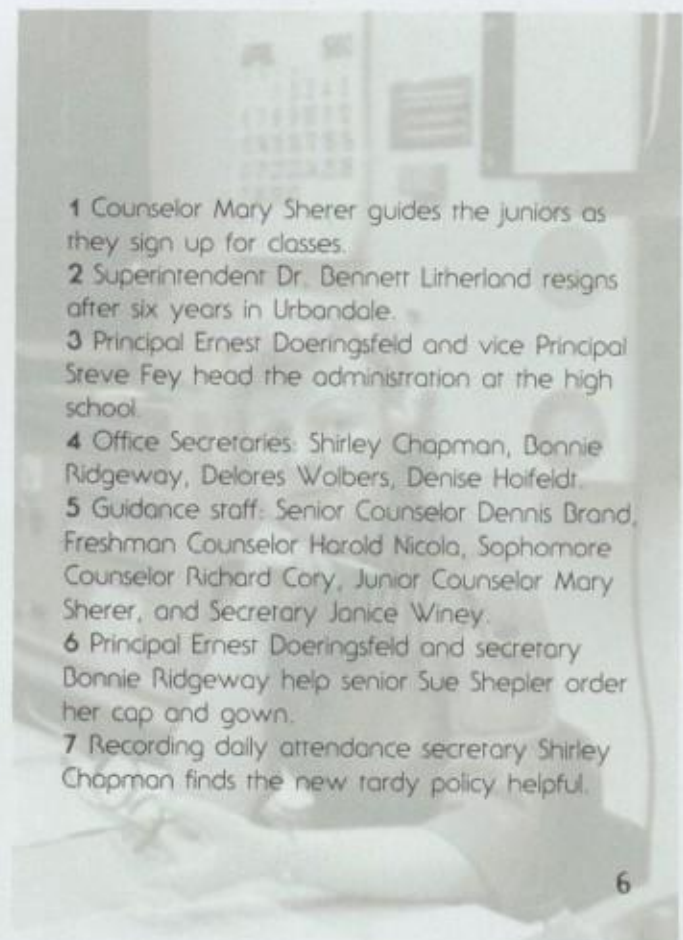

Dr. Benner Litherland, Urbandale superintendent for six years, resigned his post June 30, 1980. Mr. Cesare Caldarelli was selected as the new superintendent. Mr. Caldarelli was director of staff and development in Des Plaines, Illinois.

Declining enrollment and inflation continued to plague the school system. School board members Anita Kire, Betty Baker, Marian Chase, Jane Carlstrom, Everett Applegate, and James Toma defeated a motion to close Blackhurst Elementary and decided to equalize enrollments among all schools. High school enrollment was 1,028, down slightly from last year.

At the high school part of a three-year long-term building alteration plan was completed. In the remodeling the science department was moved upstairs and received $28,000 in new equipment. The parking lot was repaired and a moped-bicycle parking lot was added. "I think it was an outstanding year. The students showed responsibility and maturity," Principal Ernest Doeringsfeld commented.

No more green slips as vice principal Steve Fey helped initiate the abolishment of tardy slips. Office secretaries Shirley Chapman, Bonnie Ridgeway, Delores Wolbers, and Denise Hoifeldt answered the telephone, kept records, accounted for all money, typed and assisted administrators and teachers. Senior counselor Dennis Brad, junior counselor Mary Sherer, sophomore counselor Dock Cory, freshman counselor Harold Nicola, and secretary Janice Winey manned the guidance center. Scheduling, counseling, and preparing students for the future were the jobs of the guidance office.

Meeting special needs

Offering a variety of educational programs, the special education staff included Tom Beran, Carol Handley, Kathy Mason, Cathy Srole, Betty Woodard. Average class size was about 15 students. The amount of time spent in special education depended upon the program. For Woodard and Handley's resource rooms, the average time was between two to ten hours. The resource room teachers dealt with any kind of disability or learning problem. students worked on reading, math, handwriting, organizational skills, and spelling.

Remedial Reading, a class taught by Srole, allowed students to attend regular classrooms with her help in any subject area. Reading skills were emphasized.

Special Class with Integration was taught by Beran and Mason. Students who took this class generally had difficulty learning in the same way as students in the regular classroom situation. These students attended academic classes with Beran or Mason.

They joined students in the regular classrooms for non-academic classes.

Marion Koll, school nurse, handled about 100 people a day, referring an average of one a day to a doctor. She offered lots of TLC, a good ear, and thoughtful advice to those with the little aches or major breaks of life.

Gettin' Down To Business

Memory typewriter aids Business Dept.

During November the Business Department received a new machine, an IBM Memory typewriter. It was leased to the Business Department for one month from Area 11 Education Agency. The machine was used by the Advanced Typing, Shorthand, and Office Education classes. "The Memory typewriter gave the students the opportunity to see automated equipment used in business offices," said business teacher Kay Griffin. "Material could be stored and then recalled in the machine."

Senior Staci McNabb was selected fall Senior Standout from the Business Department. "Staci was an asset to the department and we feel sure she will have great success in the business world," predicted Mrs. Griffin. Staci had taken Typing I, II, and III, Shorthand I, II, and III, Office Practice, Accounting, and Introduction to Business. Next year she plans to attend American Institute of Business to learn skills to become a legal or medical secretary.

Mr. Tim Hermesen joined the Business Department. "As a business teacher, I would hope my students have the ability and skills to make it in the business world," he commented.

Japanese visitor shares experiences

Mr. Tsuneo Suzumori, an English teacher from Japan, spent two weeks sharing his experiences as a Japanese teacher with UHS classes and observing American education under the sponsorship of Deana Lerner and Karen Hartigan. Japanese students attend school 280 days a year, have much more homework than American students, and pass stiff entrance examinations in order to get into high school and college. As a coach of his high school kendo team, Suzumori's presentation included an explanation of the martial arts. While in Urbandale, sophomore Scott Smith and his family hosted Mr. Suzumori.

The Mass Media classes heard Chuck Anderson, a Des Moines Tribune photographer talk about different types of cameras, and difficulties reporters encounter when taking pictures. The classes also visited several radio and tv stations. First and second semester Mass Media classes combined to produce the Fourth Annual Sound and Film Festival May 6 at 8p.m. in the gym.

After 14 years at UHS Mrs. Ruth Simon resigned to get started on "things that I have been wanting to do." She has taught sophomore English, film making, journalism, individualized reading, speech, small-group discussion, and myths and legends. Sometime in the future, Simon hopes to complete a book on human-relations training from the results of her experiences in small-group discussion classes.

Three new computers rescue expanding class

Electronic "thinking" machines continue to inspire UHS math students. Three new microcomputers were purchased by federal funds. Two Radio Shack TRS-80's and an Apple II Computer aided students and faculty. "The TRS-80's have 16K of memory while the Apple II contains 48K of memory capability," stated Principal Ernest Doeringsfeld. One "K" was equivalent to 1,000 computer words.

"The two TRS-80's helped ease overcrowding problems caused by each year's expanding computer classes," math teacher Jack Marriott said. The new additions joined an older TRS-80 the math department had been using for a number of years.

The Apple II computer was placed in the library where it was used by various groups. Computer students could use the screen to make graphs and computer games. The guidance office stored information about colleges. In the future, the library staff plans to store information about books and records of overdue materials.

Science department moves upstairs

The science department regrouped and formed a solid unit as Mr. Myers' and Mr. Winters' classes joined the other science instructors in the 700 wing. In the remodeling, the department received $428,000 in new equipment. That included many more lab tables, creating more space for experiments. Eleven thousand dollars were spent to install the tables. Instructor Mitch Myers commented, "It's fantastic, we got new lab tables. We have more room and more storage area."

Gomez, the science department's mascot — a huge boa snake, disappeared in late September. Of undetermined gender and therefore dubbed a "shim" — half male, half female; Gomez had been donated to UHS five years ago. "Shim" was six feet long and about eight years old.

Myers claimed, "Gomez was a valuable snake. You couldn't buy another one half shim's size for 90 bucks."

In early May the partially decomposed body of Gomez was recovered from behind a bank of lockers near the American History rooms. The long lost friend of the science department was found when students began to notice a peculiar odor around the 600 hall. The body was recovered by biology teacher

Myers who crawled through the ceiling to recover the corpse with a broom. Gomez will be greatly missed.

German And Spanish

Accent on culture

Practical application and practice helped Spanish and German student learn foreign language. Students began first year study by using visual aids to learn new vocabulary rather than translating. By the end of the year, students were expected to speak as much of the language as possible, and they received extra credit for doing so.

Students learned practical application for their new vocabulary by writing dialogues on everyday activities.

Studying the culture of foreign countries was a large part of class activity. Spanish students studied a variety of topics including bull fighting, Spanish and Mexican history, art, literature, ethnic groups, religion, food and social customs. German operas, fairy tales, the old language, and old and New Berlin were among topics studied by German students.

Classes overflowing

Classes were everflowing in the home economics department stated Mrs. Van Ryswyk who taught Single Survival and Textiles and Clothing. The number of boys taking Foods and Nutrition increased dramatically. The majority of boys indicated that one of their favorite parts of the course was eating, while the least favorite was clean-up.

As part of a child development unit, Janet Peppmeier's Family Living classes held a pre-school for 3 and 4 year olds for approximately six weeks on Tuesday and Thursday each week.

An average of 10-12 preschoolers attended each class.

Vicki Elfritz

Everyone should always have a goal in mind, said Industrial Arts teacher Jim Kelsey. He received his doctorate in Industrial education. New to the department was Kevin Paar who joined the staff during the winter term after student teaching here. Mr. Paar taught Auto Mechanics, a position that had gone unfilled during the first nine weeks.

Architectural Drawing featured students designing their own houses. Commercial projects including designing multi-family housing, office buildings, schools, small motels, apartment buildings were done in small groups.

Game Rules

Attendance changes

New rules for PE classes missed were established by the school board.

Freshmen and sophomores who met three times each week were allowed six excused absences while juniors and seniors who met twice weekly were allowed two absences. This was double the allowable absences from previous years. An early bird class was held at 7 a.m. one week out of each month for students needing to make up classes.

Games, a new mini nine-week class choice, was a course in which students taught children's games to other members of the class. After selecting a game, the "teacher" evaluated the mental, physical, and social benefits the game offered.

Because of little snow, the skiing and skating groups were able to get outside practice cross-country skiing only twice. Skating from the balcony and bleachers in the gym was substituted. Roller skating and Skate Country completed the course.

The Love Bug, a brown Datsun, frightened drivers ed. students with her quirky habit of turning her lights on. Instructor Larry Bess found this annoying when he would try to start the car only to find the batteries dead.

Two of the three drivers ed. cars did not arrive until October creating a backlog in student driving. Each student was required to drive 12 ½-hour sessions for a total of six hours behind the wheel. Instructor Lynn Greiner conducted class three times each week for the semester.

Shutters and Mr. Bess helped with before and after school driving.

During the six week summer session, Denny Frerichs and Miss Sherrie Thompson joined the staff. Two Fiats were added. Smaller cars, part of the current trend toward fuel efficiency and less spending, marked the driving year. New texts dealing with cycles, pedals, and insurance problems were part of the summer program.

Expanding interest in art, music

Mr. Sam Chiodo joined the art department, teaching Introduction to Art, Sketching and Drawing, Ceramics, Sculpture, and Painting. Mrs. Mary Evans was added to the staff second semester as a three-fifths teacher. She taught three classes in Introduction to Art and Sketching and Drawing.

This spring, art students took a field trip to the junior high to view a show featuring works from the Maximilian-Bodmer collection. Students had the chance to display their own work in the annual Brandeis Art Show. Projects were also set up in art displays and the library throughout the year.

Two students placed in the first CIC art show held in Boone. Brad Sabin received first place for his death mask, and Jim Skinner placed second in the jewelry category for a pin he designed. Senior Brad Smith was selected as the outstanding student in the art department at commencement.

New Concert Choir teacher Doug Mason had taught in South Tama for three years, then left teaching for a raise in salary, but he decided that he missed working with kids and music. From a chorus of approximately 40 students, the Vocal Music Department added over 75 new students. The size of the chorus tripled. Besides the Concert Choir, two new groups were formed, Men's Choir and Women's Choir. Swing Choir featured selected vocalists who performed pop numbers to choreography. For the first time in several years, the Concert Choir performed at state contest and received a superior rating.

Politicians stump here

TV cameras rolled. With Iowa's presidential caucuses first in the nation, political excitement ran high in Des Moines and at UHS. Candidates and their representatives flocked to the city during the fall to air their ideas. In the Republican marathon, campaigners included Congressman John Anderson of Illinois, Senator Howard Baker of Tennessee, former Congressman and CIA director George Bush of Texas, former Governor John Connally of Texas, Congressman Phil Crane of Illinois, Senator Robert Dole of Kansas, and former Governor of California Ronald Reagan. On the democratic side, Senator Edward Kennedy and California's Governor Jerry Brown were challenging incumbent President Jimmy Carter.

Government instructors Gary Page and Jay Mennenga were largely responsible for the multitude of speakers at UHS.

Governor Brown was the guest speaker on November 21. "He really seemed to care about what's going on," one student commented. Earlier, representatives of Bush and Connally had spoken to government classes.

On December 14, Cissy Baker, daughter of Senator Baker, visited.

Joseph Kennedy, a nephew, brought Senator Kennedy's campaign to UHS December 20.

Answering questions about Iran and the Soviet Union's involvement in Pakistan and Afghanistan, Chip Carter, youngest son of the President, campaigned before government classes January 17.

History teachers Charlotte Aylward and Linda Calvin received a national grant to publish the UHS history curriculum based on peace, freedom, and humanism also co-authored by history teacher Harvey Kimble.

Peer Helpers, a student counseling group dealing with human relationships, involved sophomores, juniors, and seniors during the second year of its development. Each semester an overnight retreat was held to get to know each other better and to learn listening and sharing skills. Mrs. Rae Gene Robbins was assisted by counselors Mrs. Mary Sherer and Mr. Dick Cory.

Community Involvement offered students a chance to use their special skills and unique talents. Exploring various career interests, students were out in the community 4-6 hours a week and in class 2 days a week to share their experiences and problems with classmates.

First semester 33 students were divided into two different class periods.

The variety of fields and services investigated included photography; freshman advisement; teaching at the grade school, junior high, and high school; working with the handicapped; the aged, emotionally disturbed; assisting at day care centers, the runaway service, the crisis line, and at the Young Women's Resource Center.

Seniors Pam Mulder and Paul Mindermann taught deaf kids and initiated a class of the new sign-language for the community.

Work Experience was a one semester class in which students were given credit for working 15 hours a week in a job of their choice. Each had to get his own job. Among the many involved, Scott Uren worked with the Saylorville Maintenance crew, and Kirk Bardole served an internship with Younker's advertising department.

264 sophomores move up the ladder

A little more experience helped the 264 sophomores make it through their second year of high school.

What's it like to be a sophomore? "Unusual, I thought it was going to be easier than last year," commented Ron Hahm. Jim Lodermeier added, "It's been a very interesting year!" Some of the girls found that their sophomore year brought more than just work. "This year's been great for me, I have met lots of really nice people I didn't know before, and I did different activities this year, such as cheerleading,"

Amy Thompson said.

As for class effort, the sophomores decorated the history hall for homecoming and came out of class competition with an impressive second place.

Class officers this year included president Scott Schneider, vice-president Regina Sweeney, secretary Susan Hansen, and treasurer Joanna Brown. Senators Brenda Black, Jodi Gilson, and Kelli Rush represented the class on Student Senate.

Students express pros, cons of jobs

Article reprinted in part from the
JAYHAWKER February 7, 1980

Seventy-six percent of the UHS students have part time jobs according to a Jayhawker poll. Nationally, teenage employment is about 70 percent. Parttime jobs are very much a part of high school students' lives. They can however, have many disadvantages as well as advantages.

Whether the job is strictly for the money (saving for future expenses, spending money or paying bills), experience, fun, enjoyment, meeting people, or just keeping busy; UHS students find a variety of reasons why they want to work. Students feel the major advantages of having a job are the money, working for a fair employer, the benefit of meeting different people, making friends, learning, experience, future opportunities, more independence, the ability to save for the future, and flexible hours.

The inability to get school work done is one disadvantage in having a job. Other disadvantages include less free time, fewer opportunities to attend school activities, boredom at work, unfair employers, missing a favorite TV show, hard and tiring work, and not having time to join sports or do much around the home.

The average wage of a working UHS student is $3.31 an hour which is 11¢ above the minimum wage allowed by law. The average number of hours worked per week is approximately 20.

Two new clubs rally interest at UHS

Two new organizations made their appearance at UHS. The Chess Club participated in the state tournament, December 1-2, at SouthRidge Mall and captured fourth place. Junior Tom Schnurr, president of the club, explained, "Fourth place was not so bad at all, considering it was our first state tournament."

UHS chess men who played at the tournament were Schnurr, junior Shawn Huston; sophomores Brad Sams, Robert Hao, Rick Rumer, and Tom Kelsey; and freshmen Greg Shaw and Vijay Israni. Special awards were given to Tom Kelsey for "the best 10th grader" and Shaw for "the best 9th grader."

Sponsored by Mrs. Marge Wegner, the group met after school in the library to work on plays and to compete among themselves. Huston served as club secretary. Junior Lisa Gibb and faculty members Mrs. Gene Robbins and Mrs. Mary Sherer initiated a pep club. A variety of activities were planned to encourage new members to join.

Lisa Gibb was elected president, Judy Huston, vice-president; Susie Readinger, secretary; and Lori Van Soelen, treasurer. An executive board was also chosen including senior Kristen Young, junior Julie Hard, sophomore Regina Sweeney, and freshman Caryn Twining.

An activity card was given to all members paying twenty dollars for the school year. The fee included a special section blocked off for football games so they could seat together to cheer the team, and also provided paint and paper to make signs for all athletic, drama, and musical events. Each member worked with two special "pals" during the year.

Draft registration concerns UHS students

Editorial reprinted from the JAYHAWKER
January 31, 1980.

The President has taken steps to bring about the reinstatement of draft-registration. In his State of the Union address to the Congress, the President said that he would introduce legislation to Congress that would require persons between the ages of 18 and 26 to register for selective service.

Many people believe this to be a political move to counteract the wide-spread criticism of the President for being too lenient and too soft in his foreign policy. Others see it as a move to make the Russians take him seriously when he says that we will, "protect our vital interests in the Persian Gulf."

The President's speech has received widespread support from most public officials. The only people who are not happy that we are finally standing up to the Russians are the young people, who will be most affected.

Registering for the draft is a long way from freezing in the cold of Afghanistan, or marching across an Iranian desert; but it is still somewhat closer than most of us would care to be. The fact still remains that six months from now, many of us may be carrying our draft cards.

If we examine it carefully, we will see that registering for the draft is not such a bad idea and is probably necessary. America needs to have an effective armed service that will be ready to answer to foreign aggression in a reasonable amount of time. At the present, it would take well over six months for the U.S. to be prepared for a conventional war with the Soviet Union. In 1979, every branch of the armed forces fell far below its recruitment quota for the year.

The invasion of Afghanistan has shown us that the Russians are not to be trusted. America must be prepared to build its military forces to prevent a war. . . .

Showing the Russians that we mean business will more likely keep the U.S. out of a war and keep us at home where we belong. Should the United States be forced into a war with the Soviets it would be necessary for all of us to make sacrifices, and for many of us to go to war. It is better to be prepared than un-prepared. Registration is a small price to pay to protect the rights and privileges we Americans enjoy every day.

"The Wall" big hit with rock fans

Review reprinted from the JAYHAWKER
February 21, 1980

The British rock band Pink Floyd has received tremendous response to their newest project, the four-sided album entitled "The Wall."

Pink Floyd (Roger Waters, David Gilmour, Mick Mason, Rick Wright) put their ideas together to form one basic theme; that of a rock group's trial before the public, their ups and downs enroute to becoming number one. The album already has reached number one on the charts and has ranked the quarter high on rock fan and critic lists. Along with the success of "The Wall" Pink Floyd plans to have a limited concert tour in order to promote their latest effort. The album consists of twenty-six of Waters' written tunes and is already being compared to their legendary "Dark Side of the Moon" which is considered by many to be the greatest rock album ever made." The highly talented band not only displays their exceptional musical abilities but also overdubs with a tremendous variety of special sound effects. "The Wall" is just a sheer pleasure to listen to. . . .

Investigating Future Careers

DECA first step into business

Distributive Education students gained knowledge of salesmanship, business, math, advertising, and human relations in the first steps towards the business world. Under the supervision of teacher-coordinator Susan Harvey, the class learned about the marketing of goods and services and the many skills involved in retail sales.

The students sold homecoming mums and spirit buttons. Again they teamed up with the yearbook class to sell Valentine's carnations.

In February the area DECA Leadership Conference was held at Southridge Mall where the class won a majority of awards. The State Leadership Conference was held in April at Merle Hay Mall. Ricky Bolton placed first in Food Service over 100 other participants. Kellie Boals received honorable mention in advertising. Bolton went on to the National Conference held in Miami in June.

At an employer-employee banquet on April 26 at the Hawaiian Inn, DECA students expressed appreciation and thanks to their employers. Kellie Boals

Cadet teachers look at teaching

Cadet Teaching, a class open to students who are interested in teaching, was advised by Mrs. Kay Griffin. Students acted as teachers and tutored other students at the high school, junior high, and several elementary schools. Up to two credits could be earned for two semesters of cadet teaching.

Sponsoring three dances during the fall and winter, the class raised money for the end of the year appreciation banquet and a scholarship awarded to a graduating senior going into education. The banquet was held April 22 at the Arm Bureau Building. Co-chairmen senior Ricky Fortune and junior Kathy Hillyard served as masters of ceremonies. At commencement Pam Poreete received the cadet teachers' scholarship.

3 Senior Barb Scott works with second graders at Olmsted Elementary from teacher Pat Bauman's class. The children wrote a play and portrayed various foods that were bad for their teeth during National Dental Health Week.

4 During the DECA carnation sales marking Valentine's Day at UHS, DECA adviser Susan Harvey gives senior John Williams a hand.

5 Employed at Maurice's as a sales person, DECA student Diane King is selected Senior Standout for the business department.

Exchanges featured

Producing a newspaper every week is no game, but the Jayhawker staff turned the learning experience of putting together two full pages in the weekly "Urbandale News" into a fun experience.

A new dimension was added, student reporter exchanges between Urbandale and two other schools, Hoover and Dowling. Students from each school's newspaper staff attended another school for a day. Each then wrote an article about the high school visited. Both schools' articles were printed side-by-side in both schools' newspapers.

Senior Darlene Gubuan served as editor for both first and second semester.

Mary Mellerup was assistant editor first semester and Carole Bowlin served as assistant editor second semester. Dennis Baldwin was sports editor while Mike Alley, Gail Varian, Teri Boyer, and Renee Kilmore served as exchange editors.

English teacher Mrs. Pat Strohlmann advised the staff.

4th AFS weekend

Warrawon Sritalarook from Thailand was sponsored by the American Field Service (AFS), an organization that promotes the awareness of other countries. Warrawon was impressed by the freedom at UHS. "My school back home is very strict." About 25 high school students held fund raising projects to help bring foreign exchange students here and met socially to learn about other cultures. At homecoming the club raffled off three dinners at local restaurants. Warrawon drew the winning numbers.

The Fourth Annual AFS weekend was held January 25-27. UHS hosted five students from abroad currently going to school in various Iowa towns. Officers included president Tami Hillary, vice-president Randy Bauer, and secretary-treasurer Lisa Swaney. Bauer had been an American AFS student during the summer.

Maria Posada, a Youth for Understanding Exchange student from Columbia, joined UHS second semester.

She too was impressed by student freedom.

Magazine journalism studied by staff

Games dominated the thinking of Echo staff as they worked to apply the theme of the book in every way. First semester 17 students learned about layout design, photography, writing copy, and sales. Over $3,500 of advertizing was sold in October to help finance the production of the annual. Bake sales were held each Thursday in the commons.

Second semester work on the final book began. A one-week book sales drive sold 675 books for $10.00 each. Valentine's Day Carnation sales combined with DECA netted $325 for each class. Because of the class's efforts, the book is self supporting. Money raised by the staff also bought a much needed new 35mm camera.

Despite cover problems, the staff hung in to complete their theme working evenings, weekends, and over a month in the summer.

Act IV was a drama club that met three or four times a year, usually before a major drama event such as the fall or spring play. Twenty-one students comprised the organization.

To become a member, students were required to participate in two plays, one major role and a minor role, or participate in four plays with two minor roles plus helping out with two other plays.

Stars were given for additional drama help. The top award, the spotlight award, was earned by Scott Nelson.

President Scott Nelson, vice president Teri Johnson, secretary Lisa Swaney, and treasurer Kelly Severin lead the organization. Woody Allen's "Don't Drink the Water" and the original comedy "You Gotta Charleston" were the two productions of the theater department this year.

Media assistants

Media Aids were students who assisted the librarians. Sponsored by the Voluntary Action Program, students could earn a credit per semester by working five hours a week with various library programs.

Kevin Smith, Kevin Pircher, Chad Thorp, and Linda Dearch assisted first and second semesters. These media aids were responsible for the videotaping of athletic events and speakers, checking out materials, and seeing to the needs of other students in the library.

"Without the services of the aids, the library wouldn't run as smoothly as it does," commented librarian Marge Wegner. "Students can explore a field of interest to see if they might be interested in expanding it into a career choice. Also, these students are providing a service to their school, teachers, and peers," added Mrs. Wegner.

Students prepare for future careers

Office Education (OE) was a program designed to prepare students for office skills. Besides the OE job, Office Education Related and Office Education Clerical were two other classes taken by students. OE Related was offered during the first hour and was required of all in the OE program. Clerical was offered during the second hour of the day and featured skills related to typing, the use of the 10-key adding machine, spelling, proofreading, the transcribing machine, and how to get a job. OE students went to work about noon and most were off work by 5:30. Many of the OE jobs were in banks, insurance companies, state offices, retail businesses, and offices in the Urbandale and Plaza areas. Accounting and computing; personnel training, stenography, secretarial, typing, and related jobs were examples of OE jobs.

The Trades and Industry program (T&I) consisted of the Trades and Industry Related class and the Trades and Industry. T&I Related was required of all in the program and was offered during the first period. Typical jobs included building construction, plumbing and heating, auto mechanics, printing, electrical work, sheetmetal work, work in gas stations, warehouses and restaurants. Every grading period, an evaluation sheet was given to the employers in order to evaluate the student's progress.

On March 11 the annual employee/employer banquet was held. As a thank you for the students' jobs, the schools took their employers out to lunch at Stuart Anderson's Cattle Company on March 11. Dr. Wayne Larson, adviser, explained that, "The banquet provided an opportunity for the students to get to know where everybody worked, and it promoted unity between students and their employers." OE and T&I classes sold candy and crystal jars to pay for the meal.

Jazz lab at state

After participating in eight contests, the UHS jazz band topped off their year by going to the state jazz contest in Ames for the first time, competing against the best Class A bands in the state. Receiving citations for outstanding solos were seniors Jeff Kane, alto saxophone; Greg Hall, trombone; Randy Bauer, guitar; and junior Kim Thompson, piano. The 24 member band, directed by Mr. Larry Hintz, qualified for state at three contests.

They placed second in Class AA at Coe College, first in Class A at Central College, and first out of 13 Class A bands at the UNI Tall Corn Festival.

In February, the jazz band traveled to a contest at Northeast Missouri State in Kirksville. For the first time, the Dixieland band with members Jeff Kane, Kent Kramer, Greg Hall, Greg Byrnes, Scott Young, and Kim Thompson participated in a jazz combo competition.

The jazz band performed with the stage band and Swing Choir at the annual Jazz Sounds concert and for the student body in April.

The stage band, directed by Miss Julie Hintz, performed in the Midwinter Instrumental Music Concert in January and participated in the Hoover Jazz Contest in March. Freshman Bret Wortman received an outstanding performer award on alto sax at the competition.

Three new vocal music groups were formed this year under the direction of Mr. Doug Mason. The Men's Chorus, Women's Chorus, and Swing Choir were select groups chosen by audition which rehearsed outside of the regular school day.

Practice was every Monday morning at 7 a.m. for the 41-member Men's Chorus. The formation of this group and the Women's Chorus second semester enabled many students with a full schedule and other activities the opportunity to participate in the vocal music program. The 40-member Women's Chorus practiced at 7 a.m. on Tuesday mornings. These groups performed a wide variety of music at the winter and spring concerts. Their biggest goal was to compete in the state large group contest where both groups received superior I ratings.

Rehearsing and choreographing their numbers filled the two-hour Monday night practices for the Swing Choir. With 22 members and four accompanists, they performed at the vocal music concerts and for many community organizations.

Their style of jazz, popular and show choir music provided variety to the vocal program.

Vocal program grows; top rating at state

Growing steadily since the year's beginning, the vocal music program almost doubled in size under the new direction of Mr. Doug Mason. The 58-member Concert Choir was the core of the vocal program and performed several concerts throughout the year including fall, Christmas, winter, and spring concerts. They also participated in All-State auditions, solo and ensemble contests and large group contest.

Three quarters were chosen to audition for the All-State Choir, and the quarter ofylene Gubuan, Mike Kelley, Kim Thompson, and Greg Webb was selected to participate. In March several members took solos and small groups to contest at Manola with several receiving superior and good ratings. Much of second semester rehearsals were used for state large group contest preparation. In May the choir went to contest for the first time in several years where they received a superior rating.

Student leaders, president Mary Brown and business manager Janie Kripal took charge of the candy sales. Two after-concert dances were held. During the seniors' last week, the chorus and band joined together for a picnic at Big Creek. Beck

Marching Jays play at game time shows

You've got to play the game. For the Urbandale Marching J-Hawks, the task was not to play the game, but to play "at" the game. The Marching Jays marched full force: 96 marchers, 16 flag girls, 16 pompon girls, a baton twirler, a drum major, and a drum majorette at six home football games plus a special trip to Morningside College.

Highlights of the year included the Salute to the Seniors Show with an unexpected visit from Miss Piggy, one of the Muppet characters, and the Homecoming Show which featured the theme Super Heroes and a routine to "Rocky".

On November 3 the Marching Jays journeyed to Morningside College for the Morningside vs. South Dakota State game. The band performed "William Tell Overture" and "Rocky" as part of the halftime show. Then the Marching Jays joined the Morningside and Louis Central bands to perform the song "Toccata". The band was joined by several Urbandale fans in a buffer supper on the way home from the game.

During the playoff games, a pep band of about 20 players performed for the cheering fans. Marching band was directed by instructor Larry Hintz and assistant Julie Hintz.

UHS wins tiny car in spirit contest

Sponsoring the second annual Lock-In, the Student Senate helped raise money for the Variety Club. Junior class president Lisa Gibb was in charge of the activities with the assistance of senators Denise Drake and Robert Hansen.

"More people came this year because they regreted not going last year," Lisa explained. The student body raised about $1,640.

Also, this year marked the first year for the school spirit contest promoted by the Variety Club. Kirk Bardole, president of Student Senate and Barb Scott, vice-president, represented the school to receive a miniature Model "T" car, in UHS colors.

Student Senate sponsored homecoming and co-sponsored the Sadie Hawkins dance with the Mass Media classes. Other Student Senate officers were Connie Willis, treasurer, and Brian Willem, secretary.

National Honor Society expands activities

Field tripping to Salisbury House and the Science Center, the National Honor Society expanded their activities beyond the traditional induction ceremony.

On April 20 forty new members, 13 seniors and 27 juniors, were recognized for their scholarship, leadership, service, and character. President Mark Kline gave a welcome. Vice-president Darlene Gubuan, secretary Lynette Andersen, and members Brian Willem and Craig Zimmerman recounted the purpose of the Society. State legislator Dr. Richard Byerly was the speaker.

At the end of the year, a get-together picnic was held at Jester Park for new and continuing members.

Miss competition support team

A majority vote the Jaywalkers decided not to participate in the State Kick competition in order to support the football team in their bid for the state football championship. The 18-member squad was captained by senior Shelly Davis with co-captain Laurie Walker. Sponsor Gail McArthur was joined by parent sponsor Marcia Spanswick. Informal once-a-week practices began during the summer. Three weeks after the opening of school, formal practices resumed. The girls met for two hours Monday through Friday.

"Ridin' the Storm Out" was the winning routine at homecoming. The girls performed at halftimes of girls and boys basketball games. At Vers Auditorium, they performed before the Iowa Hawkeyes' fans.

To raise money for new uniforms, the team held bake sales plus constructing and selling programs for the State Softball tournament. Unexpected delays prevented the team from wearing the uniforms. Next year's squad will wear them. Senior members were featured in the last routine of the year "Last Train to London."

"People of the South Wind," the Jaywalkers performed during a school assembly.

ig cheer at state; cheerleaders busy

On to State — in football, boys and girls basketball, and wrestling made this a very exciting year for the cheerleaders. The girls sold buttons, rooters, keychains, and spirit towels as fund raisers. Other activities keeping the cheerleaders busy included decorating lockers, buses, houses; painting posters; practices; and pep assemblies at various times through the year.

During the summer, the varsity cheerleaders went to the United States Cheerleading Association Camp where they learned new cheers, chants, and counting techniques. The squad placed second overall and qualified for national competition. In individual competition, junior Laura Tremmel placed second and junior Kelli McGowan placed third.

Nine cheerleaders graduated and took with them many memories, good times, and lasting friendships.

They didn't win a gold medal; they didn't beat the Russians; but they did very well. The J-Hawk Hockey Team began their season by defeating Hoover-Rosevelt 5-1. An unexperienced team, the Jays quickly racked up a 10-3 record. Furthermore Steve Hammer pulled the hat-trick (three goals) in the December 20 game.

In an exhibition match, the Jays defeated the Iowa State Cyclones JV, 11-0. Urbandale coach Art Chipahka and assistant coach Randy Higgins participated in the game. Winning the Metro-Prep hockey championship, the hockey team at Ankeny, 5-0.

At the state tournament, the Jays finished second. They received a bye in the first round, beat Mason City 6-4 and Ankeny 7-4, then lost the finals to Waterloo-Public, 9-3.

The J-Hawks were led by Jeff Cross who took second team All State defense. Selected to the third team All State were Matt Lyness, defense; Steve Hammer, forward; and Scott Cross, forward. Honorable mentions included Bob Hanson and Craig Mann.

J's big success ake 2nd in state

Soccer came on strong in Urbandale. For the first time, the UJ's, an Urbandale-based team, competed in the fall and spring league of the Greater Des Moines Soccer League competition. During fall play, the team finished with a 4-3-2 record, scoring 30 goals and dropping 18. Todd Waters lead the team with 5 goals and 4 assists followed by Chad Miller, 4-3; Mark Hokanson, 3-2; and Jeff Kane, 2-1. Coach Kane said, "We were able to turn the season around, change our offensive and defensive play, and complete a winning season."

During the spring season, the team came back tough with a 5-2-7 record. They took second in the Metro League and second in state. In the McGuire Cup play-off, the UJ's fell to Valley 4-5 in a game overtime with a shoot out as a tie. The teams showed some of the best high school soccer played.

Still not a school-sponsored sport, soccer interest is mushrooming in Iowa. It is fast-paced, inexpensive, highly skilled and competitive," comment Mr. Kane.

Memories Of 'Pope' Day

Article reprinted in part from the
JAYHAWKER October 11, 1979

It was an experience you hope to live up to once more in your life. It was "living history." It was Pope John Paul II's appearance in Urbandale.

To celebrate this event, some UHS students took part in this contact with the real world. Many trekked to the site bringing their lunches. Most were smart and dressed warmly, complete with long john's.

Most important, they were there. Junior Jeff Breiren had the day planned way ahead of time. "I went out to Living History Farms at 4 a.m. with my dad and tried to save places," he explained. "It was an experience most people will never forget because he's the leader of all the Catholics," he concluded.

Senior Jill McTaggart went to see the Pope because she felt excited by the event. "I've never seen so many people in one place." And, "I loved the music because it reflected the atmosphere the Pope created," she added.

Junior Brad Richman also viewed the Pope's Iowa appearance as a "once-in-a-lifetime" event, arriving at the Farms at 8 a.m. for good seats.

Junior Bruce Dvorak claimed, "The site was only walking distance away and it was an important occasion." He was surprised at how organized the program was. "I couldn't believe how many people were there. The crowd could have been pretty wild, but it was calm."

Senior Becky Fortune, however, was surprised at the number there. "I thought there would be more," she said. Junior Mike Feldhacker walked to the site at noon. "I thought that he'd only be in Des Moines once. I admire him more now that I've seen him, and I can identify more with him," he added.

Senior Judy Hayes was, "interested in seeing a figure of that importance. I was surprised there weren't more problems with people. They were so calm. So many came by bus." Most of all, "It was neat how there were M.P.'s scattered all over like there was an occupation zone," she said.

Junior Bryan Dubois said, "I found he (the Pope) really cares about what goes on in Iowa as well as the whole country. He's well-known as a world leader. There were many medical aid stations. But I thought there should have been more people."

Five juniors tour New York, Washington D.C.

Article reprinted in part from the JAYHAWKER November 22, 1979.

Applications were available for any eleventh grade students who was eager to learn and would like to participate in a United Nations and Washington, D.C. tour.
The tour took place March 21-29, 1980, and was sponsored by the United Nations
Association of Greater Des Moines.
Applications were obtained from government instructors Gary Page and Jay Mannenga.

The purpose of the tour was to visit and study the United Nations and our government in Washington, D.C. The total cost was $225.00, which included the cost for transportation by chartered bus, lodging, and special tours. Extra money would have been needed for food (about $65.00).

Just a few of the stops on the tour included the White House, foreign embassies,
Tomb of the Unknown Soldier, National Wax
Museum, U.S. Naval Academy, Mount
Vernon, and the Kennedy Center for Performing Arts. Also included were the United Nations tour, a 4-hour sight-seeing tour of Manhattan Island, the Statue of Liberty, a Broadway play, Times Square, and the Empire State Building.

All applications were submitted by December 1, 1979. Selections were based on academic achievement, extra-curricular activities, and personal attributes. Sara Drummond, a senior who attended the tour last year said, "It's a lifetime experience — one you don't want to miss if you have the chance."

The five UHS juniors selected to go were
Robin Bauer, Wanda Bradley, Dave Howe,
Scott Johnson and Tom Schnurr.

Rock n' Roll favorite in survey at UHS reprinted from the JAYHAWKER February 14, 1980.

A topic which seemed to interest almost all people at UHS was music. A recent survey was taken at school to see what types of music various people enjoyed. Rock 'n Roll was the most popular type of music at 64 per cent. Country and Western at ten per cent was second and tied at nine per cent were both Jazz and Disco.

Sometimes students based their choice of radio stations on what kind of disc-jockey the station had. Fifty-seven per cent of the people questioned preferred male disc-jockeys over female. Fifteen per cent either don't care, or don't even listen to the radio.

The station KMGK, receiving 35 per cent of the votes, was the most popular among students. KGGO and Q102 both receiving 30 per cent tied for the second most listened to stations.

Do you read a review, and then, if you like what you read, do you go out and buy the record? Ninety-three per cent of the people answered, "No."

Forty per cent of the students polled were from the junior class. Thirty-eight seniors, twelve sophomores, and ten per cent were freshmen.

Each student worth $1,600 in tax money

Editorial reprinted from the JAYHAWKER
September 27, 1979

We aren't going to school for nothing!
Every student in UHS is worth about $1,600 a year according to the administration. What takes up this surprising amount we've been paying all this time? According to principal Robert Doeringsfeld, well over half of this cost goes to salaries of our teachers and instructors.

Next in line are the expenses we bear for instructional supplies, which include textbooks, paper, audio-visual supplies, films, tapes, records, tapes, and library books.
Building costs add up as well as maintenance and repair, which included custodian's fees. Insurance is another factor.
What's left that's not figured into our
$1,600 appraisal? Riding the bus
(transportation) and subsidizing our hot lunches.

Political questions during campaign year

Junior Miss Carver was selected to appear at the Democratic Presidential Debate scheduled for January 7 at the Des Moines Civic Center. She was selected through a contest sponsored by the Des Moines Register and Tribune. Entrants were to think up a question, and give reasons for asking it. Carver's question which was submitted to the debate panel board as a possible question to be asked at the debate, was: "Mr. Kennedy, during these times when we are trying to reduce the arms race, do you intend to support the spending of an estimated $28 billion on the construction of the M-X missile?"

Carver's reason for asking the question was: "While Governor Jerry Brown was visiting Iowa, he came to our school to address our student body. At the time, Brown expressed that he didn't support the M-X missile. This is one of the most important questions facing our defense program right now and it will probably be an issue in the 1980 presidential election. I feel it necessary that Mr. Kennedy state exactly how he stands on this issue. People will be using a lot of different criteria to elect the Democratic candidate. I feel that this should be an issue that the people use to help them pick the best candidate."

When asked how she thought of the question, she replied, "I heard Jerry Brown discuss it at school, and President Carter has made his stand known, but Senator Kennedy has been quiet. I just want to know his thoughts on the subject." The government classes voted on two questions, authors unknown, and Carver's question was chosen.

Because of the Iranian Crisis, the Democratic Debate was cancelled. The Republican Debate was held.

Five J-Hawk baseball players were named to the 1979 All-Conference teams for the Central Iowa Conference last week. Urbandale catcher Mike Law and outfielder Scott Lyness were named to the first team. Law, a senior, hit .250 with eight runs and an RBI while Lyness, a junior, had a .282 average with five runs and three RBIs.

Senior outfielder John Williams was named to the second team along with pitcher Kris Hokanson, also a senior. Williams hit .276 with 7 RBIs and a dozen hits for the J-Hawks while Hokanson was 3-3 with a 3.11 earned run average, striking 40 batters in 45 innings.

The J-Hawks' Rick Stevens, a junior, was an honorable mention at shortstop.

Outfielder John Williams is in route to scoring the winning run in a 3-2 victory over Marshalltown. While waiting for a flat tire to be fixed on the bus, the J-Hawks find time to relax before the Mount-Mills game.

In his last season as J-Hawk coach, Jerry Kindhart encourages his J-Hawks against East.

Summer Contest

Jayettes take fifth in state tourney

Slamming to a powerful finish, the Jayettes captured fifth place in the Summer State Softball Tournament. Winning 24 out of their last 25 games, the girls collected second place in the Adel, Urbandale, and Saydel Invitational Tournaments.

The greatest win of the team's season was in the CIC, winning the conference title by defeating state champions Ankeny, two of the three times they met.

Later in the season, the Jayettes traveled to Ottumwa for a Round Robin Tournament where they defeated three highly rated teams to sweep the tournament.

Ending the season with sectional and district titles, they placed fifth in the state. Leading pitcher of the season was Suzie Ryan with 24 wins-4 losses. Jody Jenison was leading hitter with a .413 average.

Jenison was named to the All-State Tournament Team.

Foiled Again

Sectional champs bow out at Districts

Norwalk again spoiled Urbandale's attempt to advance to the Fall State Softball Tournament by spilling the Jayettes in the district finals, 4-8. Of the 10 losses of the season, two came from the defending state champion Ankeny. The team completed the season with a 15-5 record. Finishing second to Ankeny in the district, the Jayettes were the Perry Division sectional champs and the winners of the fall sectional tournament.

Senior Suzie Ryan (13-3) did the majority of the pitching and compiled an earned run average of 0.74 while striking out 90 and walking only 23.

Senior Kellie Boals lead the Jayettes in batting with an average of .365. Boals led in RBI's and hits with 16 and 23.

Junior Lori Johnson hit .362, junior Gwen Meyers .355, and junior Joni Marvin hit .355. The Junior Varsity ended its season with an 18-3 mark.

Jays return to state

In their third straight appearance of the state 3-A playoffs, the J-Hawks finished second to the team they had defeated in 1975, Emmersburg. This was Urbandale's fifth performance in six years in the playoffs.

The Jays finished an 8-1 (including a seven-game winning streak) regular season and shared the CIC co-championship with Ankeny. During the last three regular games, the J-Hawks outscored their opponents, 126-20 ending with a 45-7 embarrassment handed to Hoover.

Fielding the top defense in the CIC, the J-Hawks held their foes to 9.9 pts. per game, 121 yds. rushing, and 198 yds. total offense — all tops in the league. They finished near the top in offensive categories too. Paul Mindermann's 62 pts. led the conference while teammate John White led with 6.2 yds. per carry rushing.

The Jays average of 220 yds. was far and away the CIC's best. Junior Rod Klein finished with a whopping 11 yd. per rush average, one of which was a 70 yd. touchdown gallop against Saydel. Fumbles plagued the team early, but they found the handle and finished second low in the CIC.

Six J-Hawks were named to CIC All-Conference. Center Al Carver was the only unanimous selection. Doug Allen, Mindermann, and Mike Orr completed the offensive unit. Named to the first team defense were Mark Kinser and Jay Parree. White, Chris Knee, Brad Sabin, and Brad Barghols were placed on the second team.

Orr was selected for 1st and 2nd team All State. Mark Kinser was named to 2nd team while Allen, Carver, and Mindermann received special mention All State.

"We don't practice together, we just play the game," says junior Marvin Pringle about the JV football team. "It's really on-the-job training and lots of good experience."

The JV team was made up of different varsity team members and a few sophomores. Coach Tom Wilkie thought the team progressed throughout the season with a record of 1-2. Because of weather conditions; Teach, Valley, and North were not able to play.

Winning against tough teams like Ankeny and Grinnell but losing to the conference champs, S.E. Polk; the sophomore football team had its share of ups and downs. Coaches Roger Scott and Gary Stephens led the sophomores to a successful season.

With a total of 699 yards, Kreg Bardole was leading rusher; and Randy Richards was the team's leading tackler with 50 tackles. In the final CIC standing, the sophomores tied with Grinnell for second place.

Girls score five firsts

Once again a top-scorer, the 1979 girls cross-country team compiled a total of five first place finishes. The team members, mainly sophomores and juniors were, on the average, 30 seconds to one minute faster than last year. Coach Gary DouBrava said, "The Hawkette Invitational and the Urbandale Invitational were two very good meets. The team was well balanced and had good depth."

Action at the Urbandale Invitational was led by sophomore Diane Killeen who placed fourth for the Varsity Team and junior Missy Carver who did well for the Junior Varsity. The Jayettes won their class, beating eight other teams. At the Hawkette Invitational, the girls placed third out of ten teams. Sophomore Sue Barnhizer took second place in Class A. The girls' action at the Urbandale Classic was led by a team of sophomores, who placed fifth out of 19 teams.

At the Oskaloosa Invitational, the sophomores were led by Barnhizer, Brenda Black, and Laura Tremmel, who placed fourth, fifth, and sixth respectively. In the CIC the girls finished second and seventh in districts.

Strive For Consistency

Inconsistency described the 1979 boys cross-country season. Though the 23 member team was unable to put together a strong team performance, there were several outstanding individual performances.

The highlight of the season was at the Oskaloosa Invitational, the JV placed first with the Varsity placing second in their class.

Notable team finishes included triangular victories over Adel-Waukee, Johnston, Osceola, Indianola, and Saydel.

At the Urbandale Invitational, the boys placed third out of nine teams aided by the running of Kris Hokanson, Kris Dankert, Tim Thimesch, and Mike Van Treeck. Four of five Varsity runners return next year.

Setting 10 new school records out of 11 events, the girls swim team was coached by Dan Paulson and Gail McArthur, and managed by sophomore Jon Janssen and freshman Eric Lane. In the third season of competition, the team took second in the Early morning practices paid off when the team placed fourth in district and qualified five girls to the state meet. Teri Christensen, Colleen Lindstrom, Gail Minert, Susan Lane, and Ami Gray placed 17th of 36 in team scoring. Christensen finished fourth in state in the 100-yard breaststroke and received an All-State Honorable Mention. The medley relay team of Christensen, Lindstrom, Minert, and Gray placed eighth.

At the end of the season, co-captain Teri Christensen was named the most valuable swimmer, and Sara Drummond was given the leadership award. The most improved swimmers chosen from each grade were Michelle Walsh, 9; Amy Weaver, 10; Jill Gray, 11; and co-captain Melanie Gray, 12.

"I was very happy. They did a great job," said new coach Dan Paulson.

Improvement made

Marked improvement advanced the boys swim team. Managed by sophomore Susan Lane, senior captains Scott Fauster, Mark Kline, and Brad Smith led the team. After a long season of intense competition, the team finished making 11 out of 12 school records. They brought home a second place trophy from the Tech Engineer Invitational, and came in for third place in the CIC. At the district meet, diver Brad Smith, the only boys team member ever to qualify, advanced to state where he placed 12th. At the season's end, senior Jeff Mohr was named the most valuable swimmer, and the leadership and spirit award went to Mark Kline. The most improved swimmers from each grade were Scott Fauster, 9; Bill Kline, 10; Larry Greene, 11; and Scott Fauster and Jeff Mohr, 12.

Total team effort leads to State

For the first time in UHS history, the girls basketball team qualified for the state tournament. It also was the first time that the Iowa Girls High School Athletic Union classed the state tournament. Finishing the regular season, 10-4; and second round Ankeny in the CIC, 14-5; the try for the Sweet Sixteen was a total team effort to state.

Coach Gary Page said, "We had to go pretty deep sometimes because of injuries, and the people we were depending on really came through." The Jayettes lost their first round state tournament game to Ankeny who went on to not only win the Four A Championship but the Over-all State Championship as well. The Jayettes' victory over Ankeny earlier during regular season play stood as the only blemish on the champion's otherwise perfect season.

The season started slowly with the first two games postponed because of football playoffs and an opening season loss to South Tama. Injuries took their toll during the last part of the season and the Jayettes dropped three games in a row. The girls went into tournament play exhibiting their finest basketball.

Senior Karen Ward set a school scoring record and tied a conference mark with 59 points during the game against Boone. Selected by the team as the most valuable player, Ward was also named to the Des Moines Register and Tribune's All-Area Team, and voted first team All-Central Iowa Conference for the second year. Junior Missy Carver was named to the second team CIC. Junior Joni Marvin and senior Becky Fortune were named to the third team CIC.

Brand bids farewell

Urbandale Boys Basketball team took the role of a Cinderella team. The J-Hawks finished second in the CIC conference with a 10-4 record. After a disappointing loss to Grinnell, the J-Hawks seemed to come alive. They defeated South Tama and headed into district play. The J-Hawks beat Dowling in an overtime upset, 63-31. Their next opponent was previously top rated Hoover. The J-Hawks were beaten badly early in the season by Hoover, 81-65, but upset Hoover in districts, 61-59. Next for the J-Hawks was Abraham Lincoln (Council Bluffs), 70-59.

For only the second time in the school's history, the J-Hawks went to the State Tournament and were defeated in the first round by eventual state champion Dubuque Wahlert. All Conference honors went to seniors Doug Lollman and Craig Zimmerman. Seniors Todd Kim and Tim Steinmeyer received honorable mention. Doug Lollman led the J-Hawks in scoring and rebounding.

Departing Coach Dennis Brand commented, "I want to thank the team for making a coach's dream come true." Brand who had coached the boys team for three years was named Central Iowa Coach of the Year.

In the final round, they lost to Hoover by one point, 53-54.

Coach Steve Long said, "The final game of this tournament was the finest basketball game I have ever seen at this particular grade level. In my six years of coaching I have never had a team do as much as I asked this group to do for this year. I will always remember this effort. Give 100% is to never be a loser. Four qualify for State

"It was a disappointing season as far as win-loss records go," said head wrestling coach Dan Keller. "However, because of having a young team, many freshmen and sophomores got needed experience for the future." Twenty-six wrestling meets made up the regular season. Four freshmen lettered. The five seniors on the team included Al Carver, Jim Goodman, Bob Johnson, Todd Smith, and Jerry Towers.

The J-Hawks placed third at district action with 108 points and qualified four for state: Jim Goodman, Jerry Towers, Russ Bothwell, and Todd Parsons. After advancing two of the four to second round competition, Goodman and Towers lost and were unable to wrestle back.

In the record book, Goodman broke two records by making the most reversals and the most 2-point nearfalls; Towers had the most decisions. Russ Bothwell had the quickest pin at .17 seconds, and Al Carver broke the most pins in a season with .11 pins.

Team captains were Goodman and Towers. Goodman was named most valuable wrestler.

Powell sets JV record

Because there were not enough wrestlers to have a team, the Urbandale Wrestling team did not have a dual season this year. JV coach Wade Winters said, "We just wrestled exhibition matches whenever we had someone at our weight."

One new record was set by Marty Powell who had 13 2-point near falls in the season.

Wrestlers demand

Like the JV, the freshmen team was in need of more wrestlers. Coach DouBrava said, "It's a small group but determined." DouBrava summed up the season, "It was a long hard season. the team was determined in spite of all the losses, they stuck with it."

Running Strong

"Our strongest areas were the running events, especially the intermediate distances. We had fine mile-relay, 880, and medly-relay teams," commented track coach Gary DouBrava. The team finished with a 3-2 dual meet season, fourth in the CIC and fourth at state.

Early in the season at the Hawk Relays, senior Doug Allen won the discus and the mile relay team of Rod Klein, Kris Hokanson, Brian Fink, and John Newberg took top honors. At the CIC meet senior Lee Noel won the 110 meter dash. Klein won the 200 meter and 400 meter runs. Sophomore Eric Lucs placed third in the high hurdles and fifth in the high jump.

Qualifying for state at the district meet, Noel took top honors in the high hurdles and Klein, a junior, won the 200 meter dash and placed second in the 400. Third place finishers were Lucs in the high jump and junior pole vaulter Marvin Pringle. With a fine showing at state, Noel and Klein each took fourth place honors in the high hurdles and the open 400 respectively.

Each week coaches DouBrava and Tim Hermesen chose an outstanding track member. Noel, Klein, Newberg, Lucs, Hokanson, and Dave Sorth were selected. Freshman coach Frank Holtz led a 11-member team.

Third in CIC, strength growing

Because of the girls basketball teams' success, the Jayette track team got off to a slow start, but with each meet they showed improvement. Showing lots of improvement at the Urbandale invitational, the last meet of the season; the girls came in second to Carroll Kemper by 1 1/3 points. Earlier in the season they had lost to Kemper by 30 points.

The Jayettes came in third in the CIC behind Indianola and Ankeny. With a good showing at districts, one event qualified for state.

The 4 x 800 meter relay; Deb Kolnes, Laura Tremmel, Diane Killeen, and Eileen Clark who substituted for Becky Fortune in at the state meet.

Team members elected awards to be given at the track banquet. Winners were most valuable member, Deb Kolnes; most improved member, Eileen Clark; and most inspiring member, Laura Tremmel.

Senior Karen Anderson prepares to anchor the 400 meter relay.

Sophomore Deb Kolnes sets a school record in the two mile relay.

Discus thrower Suzie Wegner finishes third at the Urbandale invitational.

Freshman Marietta Gubuan helps a teammate practice handoffs before the meet.

Lori Page and Margaret Kuble finish first and third in the 100 meter hurdle.

Fighting to keep ahead, Missy Carver lunges toward the finish.

Linksters mark banner year

Finishing with a dual record of 11-3, the girls golf team won or finished second in all major tournaments. They placed first in the Urbandale, Ankeny, and Knoxville Invitionals. Junior Parti Mitchell was medalist in the Urbandale Invitionals while freshman Nancy Freese was medalist in both the Ankeny and Knoxville Invitionals.

The Jayettes finished second in the CIC and at sectionals held at Webster City. They also finished second at district at Fort Dodge, just missing a fifth consecutive trip to the state meet. The team was captained by seniors Teri Christensen, Mary Schmidt, and Connie Willis. Mitchell had the best season average.

Brian Freese

Fifth in the state tournament at Iowa City, the boys golf team finished the season, 12-3. The Jays won the CIC tournament, the Urbandale Invitational, and the J-Hawk Classic. They were second in the Newton Invitational and in district. Junior Jim Brown finished fifth at state.

Eleven golfers were able to shoot below 40 during the season. Brown led the team in below 40 rounds, 19 times. Medalist in the CIC with a one under par 71, junior Joe Palmer also was medalist at Newton. He was medalist at the Urbandale Invitational and was runner-up medalist in the J-Hawk Classic.

Kent Kramer was runner-up medalist in the Urbandale Invitational. Seniors Brian Freese and Kramer were also medalists or runner-up medalists in a major event.

The boys only bowed once to a greater Des Moines team, Ankeny at the district meet.

High school homecoming at the top

Homecoming for the seniors was a time of mixed emotions. It was no longer "those" upper classmen that were selected for the homecoming court, or whose houses were decorated for the occasion in roll-up-roll of toilet paper; it was our class. It was suddenly our class's football players who were playing in their last homecoming football game. Every senior knew that this was the last high school homecoming in which they would have an active part.

2 exchange students enjoy UHS

Attending UHS during 1979-1980 were two foreign exchange students, Maria Pasado from Columbia and Warrawon Srrilaonook from Thailand. Warrawon, an AFS student, attended school for the entire year. He commented that she was very glad to have attend our school during a year in which UHS competed so well in sports and other activities. Sponsored by YFU, Maria attended UHS during the second semester. She stated, "I have really had a good time here because the people are very nice. I have learned a lot about our country and culture."

College decisions helped by scholarships

Every year scholarships are offered to graduating seniors. Organizations, churches, scholastic groups, and colleges all offer an array of scholarships. Most seniors planning to attend college scramble for the opportunity to lower the high cost of college education. Many are surprised at the many scholarships available. The decision whether or not to attend college is a big one, but a scholarship can help sway a decision towards college.

Many graduate mid-term; 2 juniors join in

This year as in several years past many seniors chose to graduate mid-term. Sallie Berrier, Lisa Carter, Nancy Cierzan, Becky Crouse, Paige Dare, Cullen Davidson, James Eick, Cathleen Faymore, and Christina Gardner all graduated early.

Also graduating early were Rachel Haines, Denise Readinger, Julie Schnurr, Donald Slager, Susan Small, Mary Stamper, Deanna Westvold, Raymond Wood, and Ronald Woolf.

Joining in with the graduates of '80 were two juniors, Libby Parish and Lynette Rullestad. This brought the total number of graduates to 262.

Preparation for graduation

Being measured for cap and gown is one of the first preparations seniors make for graduation. At that time, they also ordered graduation announcements from Herff Jones Company; which provides a selection of mementos to choose from. Seniors also voted on the class motto, class colors, and the class flower. The colors chosen were red and royal blue, and the flower, a red rose. The seniors chose their motto: "Today we prepare for our dreams of tomorrow."

Senior receives presidential recognition

On Wednesday May 14, 1980, Mark Kline received a telegram from President Jimmy Carter commending him on his outstanding achievements in school and in extra curricular activities. Mark was chosen as one of 141 high school seniors to receive the Presidential Scholar Award. During the summer he traveled to Washington D.C. to receive the award at a banquet held at the White House.

This was one of several awards Mark received during his senior year for his scholastic abilities. Mark plans to attend the University of Iowa majoring in bio-physics.

What was it like to be a senior? It was a year to realize there would be a "life after high school," a time of decisions and indecisions, a time to make plans and to look ahead. But most of all, it was a time of friendships and good times that will always be remembered.

winners of this award. Also receiving the award were Alan Carver and Mark Kline.

Class of '80 moves on

School was out Thursday, May 15 for the 262 members of the graduating class. They were back again Friday morning for rehearsal and received their caps and gowns. That afternoon they met at the Rolling Prairie Inn for the senior class banquet. Guest speaker Rev. Edward Baker encouraged the students to "make their lives count for something."

Ceremonies began Sunday evening at Baccalaureate. Rev. William Enns asked the class the question, "Upon what will you build your life?" in his address. Mr.

Larry Hintz conducted the band, Mr. Doug Mason directed the Concert Choir in "Ave Maria" and "One Little Candle."

Diplomas were presented at commencement on Tuesday, May 20. Student speakers Craig Zimmerman and Cherie Beeler reminded their class of past fun and achievements and of their exciting future ahead. Senior Greg Hall performed a trombone solo, "Grand Concerto" and the Concert Choir sang "These are the Best Times."

Recognition was given to outstanding seniors from each department. Awards went to Sallie Berrier, Home Economics; Russ Haynes, Physical Education; Tami and Teri Hillary, Social Science; Jerome James, Industrial Art; Jeff Kane, Music; Sraci McNabb, Business Education; Jeff Mohr, German; Ruth Russell, Distributive Education; Ed Shoemaker, Trades and Industry; Brad Smith, Art; Carla Van Enter, Language Arts; and Mark Kline, Mathematics, Science, and Spanish.

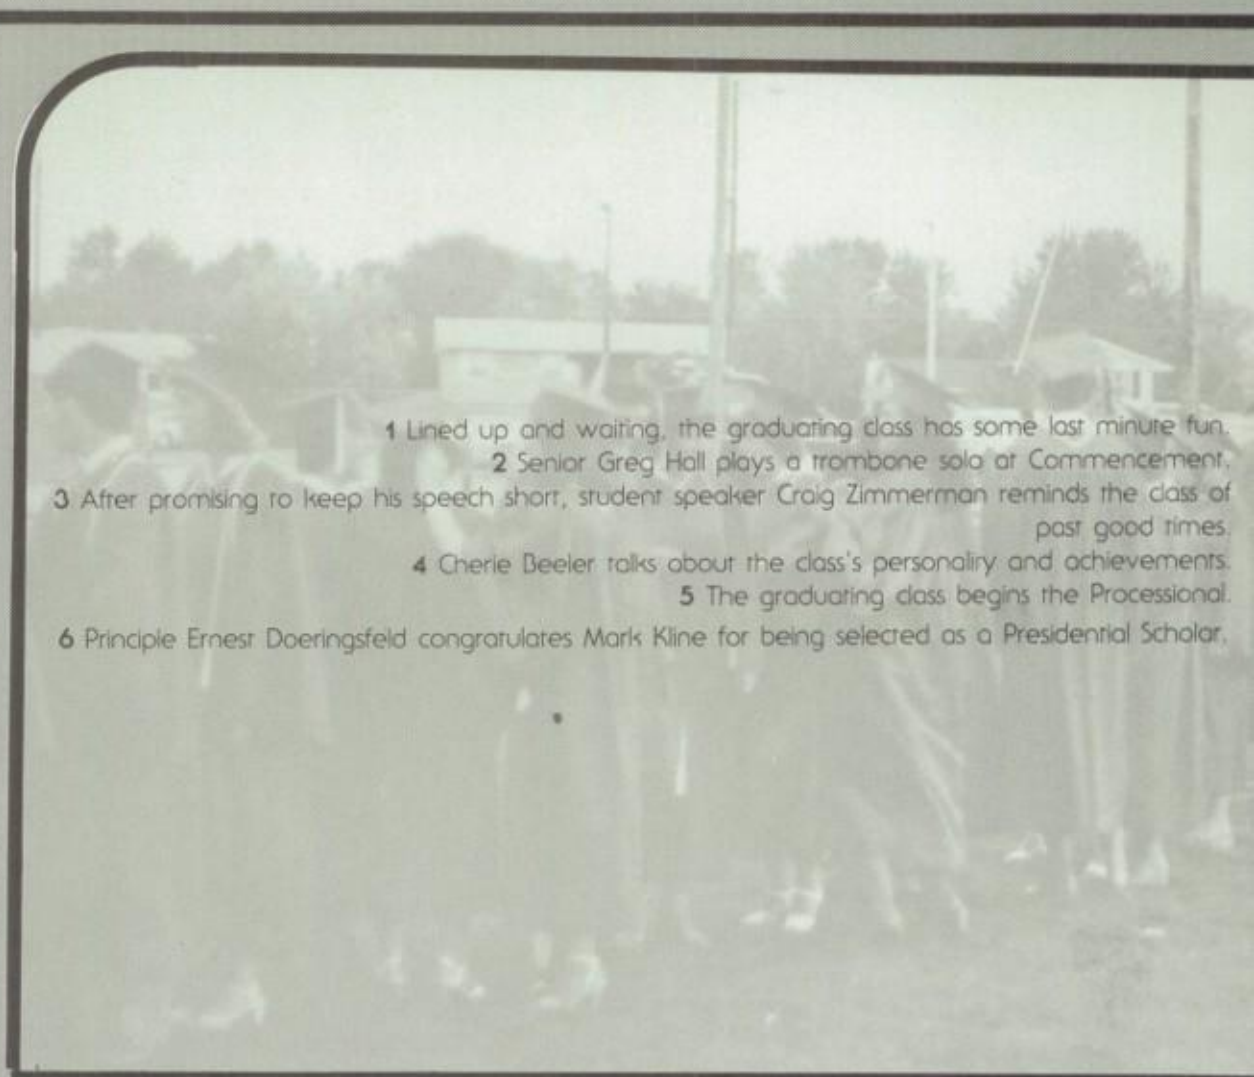

Mark Kline was also named one of 141 students in the U.S. to be a Presidential Scholar, and invited to Washington D.C. to receive his award. Better American Citizenship Awards were presented to Al Carver, Mark Kline, and Carla Van Enter by Robert Bodino from the Iowa and Polk County Bar associations. Russ Haynes was presented with the American Legion

Auxillary Scholarship by Ruth Whitney. Kay Griffin awarded the Cadet Teachers Scholarship to Pam Poreere, and Dolly

Lein awarded the new Writers' Workshop scholarship to Cindy Salyers.
